Terry & Terry Architecture prides itself on its ability to combine innovative architectural theory and practice. The partners, Alexander and Ivan Terry, each have more than eighteen years of experience in both design concepts and professional production services in architecture. The partnership has experience with a wide variety of projects: single-family and multi-family housing, retail and office space; tenant improvement; and urban design. They have extensive, unique exposure to building construction and fabrication that has enabled them to acquire and refine a first-hand knowledge of the relationship between concept, construction and project realization.

The renovation transformed an existing 1960s house into an open-plan modern dwelling. The design involved subtracting existing walls and parts of the roof to create the new "opened" wood tube form, which let in natural light, improved circulation and provided protection from the wind at the rear living area deck.
